

BRIEF SKETCHES OF MEN WHO MADE CHAMPIONS OF THE GRAYS

Stanley Diggle (Captain).

The initial sacker of the Grays has been playing professional ball for thirteen years, and is the headiest man in the amateur ranks this season. His knowledge of inside ball is not exceeded by any one in this city, and this fact, which caused him to be elected captain of the Richmond Champions, has been a deciding factor in the penultimate race. A steady hitter, a wonderful fielder, and his work on the paths, will do much for the Grays when they meet the Bankers. He finished the season like this: batting, .320; fielding, .992.

Frank Dunn.

Frank was secured from the College, and in his first two appearances on the mound did fine work. Through illness he was forced to give up pitching and has been playing utility. He declares himself now in good shape, and is expected to twirl in good shape of the games in the Inter-city Championship. He has been a dangerous batter, and is liable to opposing pitchers considerable trouble.

Henry Nelson.

"Nell" has been a member of the Grays for the past two seasons, handling the first bag last year, and this season having charge of the midway station. His ability to work the pitchers for free passes, his work on the bases, and his ability to lay down bunts, has stamped him as a most valuable man.

Oren Orbaugh.

"Midget" is one of the premier third sackers in amateur ranks this season, and although he has been playing second, when shifted to water. While small in stature, he possesses the necessary punch, and is one of the leading sluggers of the team. He bats from either side of the plate with equal success, and had the honor of finishing the season with the following averages: batting, .450; fielding, .947.

"Jake" is known all over Richmond as the leading infielder, and is claimed by some as being the best Richmond amateur product ever turned out. He is one of the most aggressive players in this city, and his work on the defensive has been wonderful.

A most reliable hitter, fast and heady, he can be expected to do fine work in the coming series.

He has the honor of leading the Grays in batting and fielding, thusly: batting, .415; fielding, .925.

"Mickey" Morgan.

"Mickey" work in the left garden this season has been of such consistency as to stamp him as being one of the best defensive players in the city. He is dead to a ball, and has not been guilty of an error in the outfield this year.

He comes through with his hits at many opportune times, and has scored as many runs as any member of his team.

To see "Sally" in action after a fly ball is a treat, and there has long been a question among followers of the amateur game as to whether it were possible for him to drop. He certainly has never been guilty of such an offense to the writer's knowledge.

His batting has also improved this season, and is unquestionably, with one exception, the leading outfielder in the city. He had the pleasure to participate in every game this season with good results.

C. R. Dowden.

"Little Tanny's" work this year has been the most timely, and has shown more improvement than any other single individual on the Grays team. He has had the greatest liking for the pitchers' offerings when men were on bases, and has driven in more runs than any member of the team.

He is a good fielder and baserunner, and finished second in batting, with the grand average of .394.

"Big Boy" Blount as he is popularly called, has been catching for the Grays since the early part of the season, and a more consistent, hard-working backstop cannot be found amongst amateur ranks.

Frank's throwing and timely hitting have been large factors in his team's standing, he finishing the season with the following averages: batting, .373; fielding, .943.

A. P. Canepa.

The Grays' star twirler was secured by them last season, when he quit the professional game, and was formerly with the Bluefield Stars of the Mount State League, and ranked as one of their leading pitchers.

Through accidents, Pat has been compelled to perform double work this season, and has done so creditably. He is sure to participate in one or both of the games Monday, and can be expected to give the Washington champs a hard battle.

As utility man on this year's champions, Lehman's work has been fully up to the high standard set by his teammates, and while unable to play regularly, owing to business, has proven to be a most valuable member of his organization.

A heady player, both in the field and on the bases, and his value as a runner, he is sure to cause his opponents no little trouble in the approaching series.

"Tootsie" Redford.

"Tootsie" was secured by the Grays in the last part of the season, and only had opportunities to perform in three games. In one he relieved Canepa after the game had been won, but started the other two, and in these his ability was fully demonstrated. He is looked to perform in one of the coming games, and is sure to cause his opponents considerable trouble.

Dr. Price, while new to the game, has had a very successful career at the managerial end. Last season was his initial appearance as a manager in amateur ranks, and while not annexing the flag, his team were pennant contenders to the end, and in the opinion of many, barring injuries and the fact that some of his men left to play semipro ball, would very likely have shown that they were capable of finishing better than the third position.

Dr. Price started his men out at the beginning of the season in good shape, and they have played the same consistent game up to the top.

He possesses a fine personality, and is well liked. He has prevented the team from having those slight internal dissensions which so often wreck amateur teams, and this has been the prime cause of his proteges' success. Dr. Price is also major of the Richmond Grays' Battalion of the First Virginia Infantry Regiment.

"Bill" Ross.

William Ross, assistant manager of the Grays, is considered a worthy understudy of the champion manager.

"Bill" has been put to the task many times this season of acting in Dr. Price's stead, and very well did he perform his duties along the managerial lines. Should anything happen that Dr. Price should discontinue to manage the Grays, Ross would surely succeed.

With the Palace Bowlers

BY R. N. ROWSEY.

The Palace Duckpin League season only has two more weeks to run, there being six more nights of league bowling.

The Palace fall Duck and Tenpin League will open on or about October 10 with six five-men teams. The rules and schedule are now being drawn up.

The Palace team won three games from the Journal team last Monday night.

The games between the Richmond Lunch and Virginians were postponed until a later date.

The visitors showed up in great form here in the home-and-home series last week. The Roanoke boys were defeated by the locals in both ten and duckpin.

J. Henrich, of the visitors, was star bowler. The scores were:

Roanoke, 453, 535, 506. Total, 1,494.
Richmond, 496, 553, 496. Total, 1,545.
Richmond's majority, 51 pins in ducks.

The visitors captured two out of three games in tenpins from the locals, but the total number of pins counted the winners. The scores were:

Roanoke, 507, 773, 806. Total, 2,416.
Richmond, 753, 890, 736. Total, 2,438.
Richmond's majority, 22 pins.

DOWN THE ALLEYS

What was considered by many the best card of the season was run off at the Forest Hill alleys last week. The players had a decidedly good week, four favorites coming first under the wire and setting new records, the successful choices being Miss Helen Hancock and Mrs. Maud Thistle, in the women's division, and Switzer and Fred Clarke capturing the laurels in the men's divisions.

These players showed great form in their games, and established a new high mark for the season. In fact, all of the bowlers seemed to have had a good week with the pins, and several changes were made by both the women and men in the standing columns.

Several matches have been arranged for next week on the Forest Hill alleys, and those who attend are assured a good time.

The Roanoke aggregation, under the leadership of the old veteran, Frank Selfert, appeared on the alleys in good form, and made a big impression with the crowds, and gave the local pin knights a hard battle for first honors.

The men of the Southside League continue to keep up their good work, and some very interesting series are now being played by the teams. Barker and Bickers rolled in old-time form, and gained a few pins in their average.

Nash and Bruffy hit the pins for all they were worth in their games last week.

Flynn had a bad drop last week. Williams had two fine sets last week, 558 and 563, which is some bowling for a new comer.

Berger was a little nearer his form last week, and increased his average.

Goode needs a little practice, we guess, and there are others.

Can you imagine Pop Suttlerin rolling a "108" well, all things are possible in tenpins.

Studebaker Standards

The Studebaker "25" is as well built, with the same pains-taking attention to details, as every other Studebaker car, no matter what the price.

The design of the Studebaker "25" motor can be compared in excellence only with one or two of the most famous foreign cars.

The position of the pump and magneto on a silent cross shaft in front of the motor has forever answered the question of where they should be placed. Your examination will bear out this contention.

The sides of the bloc-cast cylinders are clean and the enclosed valves quickly accessible.

There are over 225 drop forged parts in the Studebaker "25" and every one of these light, strong forgings is heat-treated in our own huge ovens from three to six times.

Sturdy Driving Qualities

The Studebaker "25" has become widely known as a glutton for work.

It is powerful in that high degree which renders it capable of accomplishing every motoring task you set before it, with a rush which is as easy as it is successful.

It will thread in and out of traffic on high gear without laboring, and across country will take the hills without trouble or hesitation.

Not the least satisfying feature of the "25" is its quiet and full response to the throttle.

Comfort and Convenience

The long, resilient springs, cushion any road-motion and the deep upholstery adds full comfort to the admitted driving power of the car.

The Studebaker jiffy curtains can be put in place quickly from inside the car.

The throttle and spark levers are where they belong, above the steering wheel.

In finish also, this car is quite up to Studebaker standards. The "25" is in every way a car for long use and complete satisfaction.
